

Welcome!

We appreciate you taking time to consider sponsoring Data Saturday Slovenia 2022, the successor of the very well-known SQLSaturday events that took place between 2013 and 2020.

We have put together some information to share our plans for the event and show you how your company can benefit from sponsoring it.

Event Overview

Data Saturday Slovenia is a one-day conference, bringing together volunteer speakers, an audience of data management professionals, and our sponsors. Our speakers dedicate their free time to share their knowledge and experience with the members of the community eager to learn more.

Even though our event takes place online, there are still costs associated with it that we can only address with your kind contributions.

Sponsorship Cost

We offer a single sponsorship package, the Online Sponsor package. For a contribution of 150 € we offer you the following benefits:

- Company logo placement on the event web site and in the speaker slides.
- Sponsor introduction sent to by email all attendees in the weeks leading up to the event.
- Acknowledgement during the conference keynote.
- A brief video presentation of your company shown during the session breaks.

Pre-Conference Partner

In addition to the regular sponsorship packages, a special offer is reserved for the sponsor who will provide us with the means (personnel, facilities, and services) that we need to host the pre-conference seminars. This contribution is valued at 300 €, and includes the benefits listed above.

Our Expectations

We expect all our Online Sponsors to provide the following:

- A brief introduction of your company, in two to three paragraphs of text, to be sent to our attendees by email.
- The introduction in text must be delivered to the event email address by 10 November 2022, at the latest.
- A video introduction of your business, not exceeding 3 minutes in total length.
- The video introduction must be made available at an FTP (or similar) site of your choosing by 2 December 2022, at the latest.
